

ACADEMIC HIGHLIGHTS

In December and January, AUAP students participated in several class exchanges with WWU classes including "Global Citizenship", "Interpersonal Communication" and Japanese language classes. These are such wonderful opportunities to exchange ideas, practice their English, and to make new friends! December marked the end of Fall Quarter and to celebrate their accomplishments, we held a Fall Quarter Closing Party. Students received level completion certificates and celebrated with their IEP classmates!

AUAP Cup #3: In December, students participated in AUAP Cup #3 which involved a series of challenge activities that tested their memory and building skills while competing in their IPA team. Students especially loved the memory game in which they had to match pictures of students, teachers, and staff. There was a lot of laughter and competition!

Watching a local band perform with classmates: AUAP students and their IEP classmates went to see their teacher, Paul, perform with his band who played a mix of funk, soul, and jazz songs. Students were really impressed and had to take pictures with their cool teacher!

Winter Break:

During Winter Break, some AUAP students traveled to places such as Disneyland in California and Times Square in New York City. Other AUAP students stayed locally and traveled to Seattle or to Vancouver for short or day trips.

AUAP Cup #4: Bowling!
 The final AUAP Cup was very competitive! AUAP students and their IEP classmates bowled for the most points over several games. There were some amazing bowlers, but in the end, Dylan's IPA group won the competition and will be rewarded with a pizza party in the coming days!

Watching WWU Women's Basketball game: AUAP students, teachers, and staff attended a WWU Women's Basketball game. Students really got into the school spirit with Viking helmets and pom-poms. WWU won and students received a Victor E. Viking (school mascot) bobblehead!
